The CRF250X's combination of wide, track-like powerband and rugged, lightweight chassis allow it to handle just about anything you can imagine. Revised cylinder-head porting and a new accelerator pump give the 246cc 4-stroke engine even stronger performance and smoother response. There is no other bike you'd rather ride in the Australian bush. This year's absolute best four-stroke CRF250X takes it to another level.
Honda's engineers have created a bike that's balanced, fun and easy to ride without sacrificing reliability and ride-quality.

CRF450X***
Derived from the 601 Championship-winning CRF450R, and engineered for uncompromising off-road performance, the CRF450X takes full-riding to a whole new level. Powered to turn the toughest terrain with Honda's 49cc inline four-cylinder and multi-valve suspension, the electric-start CRF450X is quite simply the ultimate open-class off-road machine.
