

GET OUT THE CRAYONS AND WIN A CRF50

Honda's club for kids – redriders.com.au - is on the giveaway rampage again, and this time they've made the big prize impossible to resist.

Kids who would like the chance to win a brand new CRF50 need simply log on to the site, colour in the specified picture using whatever artistic tools they prefer, and send it in as directed.

With its single-shock rear suspension, inverted fork and bulletproof 49cc four-stroke engine, the winner of the CRF50F will be thrilled.

This best selling bike offers smooth, easy-to-use power, excellent throttle response and automatic clutch for simple operation; perfect for the younger rider.

The "Win a CRF50 Colouring Competition" is open to all, however those who would like to become a member can also sign up online.

The site, which now boasts over 30,000 registrations, aims to provide young riders with all kinds of useful information including riding and safety tips, recent news, racing and club information, ride days and much more.

There are also downloads and photos available, as well as a section for kids to submit their own images and stories.

Anyone who becomes a member receives a free Red Rider Sticker Kit as well as a Membership Card.

Members are also sent a DVD entitled "Ready to Ride" that covers topics such as proper riding apparel, the environment, pre and post ride checks, owner maintenance and much more.
